3:00 p.m. – 5:30 p.m.

C.A.S.H. Professional Development Workshop

Are you looking to advance in your career or move about the industry and work in a new school district or business? School district and county office personnel, are you prepared to go before your school board and be successful in your presentation? Consultants, did you just get that call that a school district wants to interview you before a panel and the nerves are already kicking in? If you said yes to any of these questions this workshop is a must-attend for you! New to the Monday line-up, C.A.S.H. is now offering a three-part professional development workshop that will help school facility professionals hone their skills in many areas.

Part 1 – Sharpening Your Attributes – Put Your Best Foot Forward

Nina Boyd, Orange Co. Dept. of Educ.

Hear from one of the most well respected human resource professionals in school facilities, Nina Boyd, Orange County Department of Education and former C.A.S.H. Board member. Learn one of the best kept secrets for leadership development and career advancement, “Everyday is an Interview,” important tips to ensure your future is everything you want it to be, ways you can make sure your resume gets noticed and you get that first interview. Also, learn tips on how to sharpen your interviewing skills so you get that call back!

Part 2 – No More Horseshoes and Hand Grenades

Janet Dixon, Riverside USD

You passed the paper screening! Next step is the dreaded panel interview. A light-hearted and informative workshop on how to avoid some common landmines and get the job! This workshop will be moderated by C.A.S.H. Treasurer Janet Dixon, Director of Planning and Development, Riverside Unified School District. Janet has many years of experience interviewing school facility professionals and will give you excellent tips on how to be successful.

Part 3 – Your Favorite Board Moment – How to Speak to Your Board

Cathy Allen, San Juan USD

Don’t faint; don’t forget to breathe! Presenting to board members can be intimidating but with solid preparation and practice you will survive. From mastering the dreaded “um” to taming the gesturing hands, we’ll show you tips and tricks to help you feel comfortable and be successful. Cathy Allen, C.A.S.H. Chair, will moderate this exciting and interactive workshop. Cathy is the Senior Director of Facilities and Planning with San Juan Unified School District and has a varied background in county office and school district presentations to boards.

Maintenance and Operations Technology and Demonstration Fair

John Poytress, Clovis USD

Technology is becoming more important for school infrastructure and classroom instruction. These systems are inherited by the M&O staff with little or no training on how to operate or maintain the equipment. Learn hands-on skills and techniques directly from experts in the areas of security cameras, work order systems, tracking systems, fire and security alarms, PA systems, classroom technology and enhanced audio systems.

4:00 p.m. – 5:30 p.m.

You and C.A.S.H.: What You Can Do for Each Other

Mike Vail, NAC | Architecture

Ever since its founding in 1978, C.A.S.H. has been a grassroots organization whose successes were based on the contributions of C.A.S.H. members. At the same time, involvement in C.A.S.H. and its activities has helped C.A.S.H. members to move up the school facility career ladder. During this workshop, school facility leaders will share how C.A.S.H. has enhanced their career paths. In addition, C.A.S.H. staff and the chairs of C.A.S.H. committees will review how you can become more involved in C.A.S.H. and its various worthwhile endeavors. A special invitation to attend this workshop is extended to members of the C.A.S.H. Corps.

The Basics of How to Build a School (and live to talk about it)

Jenny Hannah, Kern Co. Supt. of Schools

This workshop will provide a basic level overview of how to build a school within the State School Facility Program. No minutia or undefined acronyms will be allowed. Questions will be encouraged. You will be left with straightforward approaches on how to attack the daunting school building process. Perfect for the individual new to the field. Seasoned professionals are encouraged to attend but must show proper ID.
